Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 02 February 2007.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response to an AMENDMENT entered February 2, 2007 for the patent application 10/081,441 filed on February 22, 2002.
2. All prior office actions are fully incorporated into this office action by reference.

Status of Claims

3. Claims 1, 4, 6, 7, 10, 11, 13, 15-18, 20, and 23 are pending.

Claim Objection

4. Claims 1, 7, 15, and 23 are objected to. When limiting a method claim under 35 USC 112, sixth paragraph, it is appropriate to use the term "step for" to reference the appropriate section of the specification. The term "means for" is typically used for limiting apparatus claims in reference to the appropriate sections of the specification. This objection must be corrected.

In response to this office action, the applicant is required to cite the specific sections of the specification that are associated with each "step for" limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

5. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1, 4, 6, 7, 10, 11, 13, 15-18, 20, and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C.

§ 101 for nonstatutory subject matter. The computer system must set forth a practical application of § 101 judicial exception to produce a real-world result. Benson, 409 U.S. at 71-72, 175 USPQ at 676-77. The invention is ineligible because it has not been limited to a substantial practical application.

In determining whether the claim is for a "practical application," the focus is not on whether the steps taken to achieve a particular result are useful, tangible, and concrete, but rather that the final result achieved by the claimed invention is useful, tangible and concrete. If the claim is directed to a practical application of the § 101 judicial exceptions producing a result tied to the physical world that does not preempt the judicial exception, then the claim meets the statutory requirement of 35 U.S. C. § 101.

The invention must be for a practical application and either:

- 1). specify transforming (physical thing – article) or
- 2). have the Final Result (not the steps) achieve or produce a useful (specific, substantial and credible), concrete (substantially repeatable / non unpredictable), and tangible (real world / non abstract) result

(tangibility is the opposite of abstractness).

A claim that is so broad that it reads on both statutory and non-statutory subject matter, must be amended, and if the specification discloses a practical application but the claim is broader than the disclosure such that it does not require the practical application, then the claim must be amended.

Claims that calculate weighted global class training sample, determine an integrated confidence value, prune the terminal nodes, and select partitions simply do not provide a result that is a practical application. If the applicant in the independent claims provided a limitation such as "Outputting(insert the result) ... for (purpose or use ... which is a specific practical application)," then the 35 USC 101 rejections maybe over come. Simply as currently stated, the results are not practical applications. Further, applicant should remember that the preamble is not normally recognized for claim limitations.

Response to Arguments

6. The Remarks/Arguments contained on pages 9-17 of the applicants response dated February 2, 2007 are acknowledged. Applicants response is moving in the positive direction. Appropriate response cited in the form of ¶¶ 5 and 5 above maybe sufficient to overcome the remaining objections/rejections.

Conclusion

7. Claims 1, 4, 6, 7, 10, 11, 13, 15-18, 20, and 23 are rejected.
